We will turn the lights back on

Dear Provocateur ,

Do you really think you can break us? Do you really think we are of such weak fibre? We, like silly puppets, prancing to your tune?

Would've made you real happy, wouldn't it, to have watched us go for each other's throats as if TNT was encoded in our genes. Chalk it down as collateral damage perhaps. But really, do you even think at all?

Our days are darkened by your ugly deeds. But guess what - you will fail.

We the People will turn the lights back on.
