

The faces of Johor Bahru Baru

Written by straits-mongrel

Wednesday, 26 May 2010 19:49 - Last Updated Wednesday, 02 June 2010 10:03

---

Physically, we had a bit more elbow room, but it was a psychological full house when it came to the QnA. The questions were varied, probing and the guests seemed keen on moving forward. You feel that this JB crowd knows its issues and wants to engage.

More than a week ago - well, when the Keppel Road KTM Station was still very much Malaysian property - the Saya Anak Bangsa Malaysia Roadshow came to JB bringing with it our five key messages.

We had some old faces with new looks.

The faces of Johor Bahru Baru

Written by straits-mongrel

Wednesday, 26 May 2010 19:49 - Last Updated Wednesday, 02 June 2010 10:03

---

Student Power is a message that says, 'We know that this year (a yes) enjoyed the message Student a

Wednesday, 26 May 2010 19:49 - Last Updated Wednesday, 02 June 2010 10:03

The faces of Johor Bahru Baru

Written by straits-mongrel

Wednesday, 26 May 2010 19:49 - Last Updated Wednesday, 02 June 2010 10:03

---

They came to discuss a good portion of the crowd that afternoon. They didn't just come to listen; they came to discuss.

Wang Jiaqi, a Chinese student from the University of Singapore, is the first Chinese student to win the award. He is a member of the Singapore Chinese Orchestra and has won several international competitions. He is currently studying at the University of Singapore and is expected to graduate in 2011.

The faces of Johor Bahru Baru

Written by straits-mongrel

Wednesday, 26 May 2010 19:49 - Last Updated Wednesday, 02 June 2010 10:03

---

SADM's Es. Chid (right) chats with her friends during Roadshow in the Peninsula. Here, she is talking to a friend who is also a friend of her husband's.

The faces of Johor Bahru Baru

Written by straits-mongrel

Wednesday, 26 May 2010 19:49 - Last Updated Wednesday, 02 June 2010 10:03

---

Helps to expand the retail base and provides a more vibrant and lively atmosphere. It also helps to create a sense of community and encourages people to support local businesses. The market is a great place to see and buy local products, and it's a good opportunity for people to meet and greet their neighbors. The market is a great place to see and buy local products, and it's a good opportunity for people to meet and greet their neighbors. The market is a great place to see and buy local products, and it's a good opportunity for people to meet and greet their neighbors.

The faces of Johor Bahru Baru

Written by straits-mongrel

Wednesday, 26 May 2010 19:49 - Last Updated Wednesday, 02 June 2010 10:03

Based on KGM/Gi foregaining, this paper was the Quality by the Gutpa was a very popular KGM/Gi film

The faces of Johor Bahru Baru

Written by straits-mongrel

Wednesday, 26 May 2010 19:49 - Last Updated Wednesday, 02 June 2010 10:03

---

Wednesday, 26 May 2010 19:49 - Last Updated Wednesday, 02 June 2010 10:03