

Gabungan Bertindak Malaysia (GBM) is a non-partisan, multi-ethnic, multi-faith Coalition of 25 Civil Society organizations (listed below) established in 2011 to champion the cause for a Better Malaysia.

GBM has studied the manifestos of the Pakatan Rakyat and Barisan Nasional. As manifestos are designed to attract votes some difficult issues may not be included or dealt with adequately. We identified two major issues:

1. Poverty and inequality and
2. National debts

In the run-up to the election we urge both Barisan and Pakatan to spell out clearly their policy and road-map to tackling these two issues as they impacted on the economic and social well-being of our nation.

Poor and low income households comprising 65% of total households in Malaysia are still trapped in the inter-generational cycle of poverty and inequality and lack the capability to overcome the multi-dimensional disadvantages they face on a daily basis. A host of social ills associated with dysfunctional families from this stratum of our society is becoming evident. Increasing rates of substance abuse, delinquency and dropouts, child abuse, crime and mental illnesses, are clear indicators that something is amiss in our beloved nation.

We need to urgently address the root causes of poverty and inequality and not just continue to treat the symptoms through handouts and 1-shirt-fits-all prescription.

In line with GBM's Charter that states - "There must be equitable distribution of wealth, to eradicate poverty, end marginalization and ensure the welfare of the People. Any affirmative action must be based on needs and not ethnicity" , we reiterate our call made on 15th

November 2012 to all political parties to adopt the Social Inclusion Act 2012 proposed by SABM-HAKAM (<http://www.sayaanakbangsamalaysia.net/images/pics/news/DraftSocialInclusionAct.pdf>) and endorsed by more than 40 Civil Society organizations.

We strongly urge both the Coalitions to establish an independent Social Inclusion Commission accountable directly to Parliament so that the issues of poverty and marginalization is addressed in a non-partisan, accountable and transparent manner.

Malaysia is reported as one of the countries that have the highest capital outflow. Presently, the national debt has reached a highly alarming RM500 billion by the end of last year from RM274 billion in 2008. What happened to various European Union countries could also happen to us. No 'growth versus austerity' debate is taking place. Both coalitions may not feel comfortable to address this issue, but the rakyat need to know.

Additionally we would urge both coalitions to state clearly their position on local elections, establishment of the Independent Police Complaints and Misconduct Commission (IPCMC) and an independent Malaysian Anti-Corruption Commission (MACC) answerable directly to the Parliament.

We also call upon the civil society organisations and experts to discourse actively on the manifestos by organising forums and debates to enable the people to make informed decision on the voting day.
